

Credit Suisse Holiday Charity Initiative

L-R: Robert Griffith, Little Flower Board Member; Corinne Hammons, Little Flower CEO; Candida Figueroa, The Emergence Project Senior Associate; Carrie Sackett, Little Flower VP, Development

Rob Griffith, Little Flower Board member and Credit Suisse Managing Director, led his colleagues to raise $29,711 for Little Flower through the company's annual Holiday Charity Initiative. A large portion of this sum will be matched by Credit Suisse for a total donation of over $50,000.

We are so grateful to Rob, his colleagues who led a 'How to Network' workshop for our youth and the cohort of Credit Suisse young professionals who have adopted Little Flower for their philanthropic efforts over the next few years.

The Holidays at Little Flower

All throughout the month, Little Flower has been celebrating this joyous time of year. From ugly sweater contests at staff holiday parties to bringing joy to our children and families at various gatherings.

Here is a look at some of the festivities happening throughout the agency:

Give the Gift of Hope

This time of year is filled with the hustle and bustle, the look of anticipation on children's faces and sheer joy they express Christmas morning. But for many in Little Flower's care, the holiday season can be a tumultuous time.

You can make a difference in their lives with a donation today!

Your gift can provide a loving meal, companionship, a group outing during this festive season to a restaurant or sightseeing the holiday lights, and the knowledge that they are thought of and cared for.
