Therefore, we are conducting a comprehensive review of the contents of the information to determine the types of information potentially affected and to whom it is related. This review is ongoing.

The types of information possibly contained within the affected data may include names and one or more of the following: address, phone number, email address, Social Security number, driver's license/state ID number, taxpayer ID number, passport number, financial account information, payment card information, digital signature, biometric data, date of birth, medical treatment or diagnosis information, prescription information, date of service, patient ID number, provider name, patient account number, medical record number (MRN), Medicare/Medicaid number, health insurance information, and/or treatment cost information.

Through our investigation, we reset passwords, notified law enforcement, and reviewed our policies and procedures related to this incident. We are also providing potentially affected individuals with access to complimentary credit monitoring and identity protection services. In general, we encourage potentially affected individuals to remain vigilant against incidents of identity theft and fraud by regularly reviewing credit reports, account statements, and explanation of benefits forms for suspicious activity and to detect errors. Under U.S. law, individuals are entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus: TransUnion, Experian, and Equifax. To order a free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call 1-877-322-8228.

Individuals have the right to place an initial or extended fraud alert on a credit file at no cost. If individuals are a victim of identity theft, they are entitled to an extended fraud alert lasting seven years. As an alternative to a fraud alert, they have the right to place a credit freeze on a credit report. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved without consent. According to federal law, individuals cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on their credit report.

To place a fraud alert or credit freeze, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:

The FTC may be reached at 600 Pennsylvania Ave. NW, Washington, D.C. 20580; www.identitytheft.gov; 1-877-ID-THEFT (1-877-438-4338); and TTY: 1-866-653-4261. Instances of known or suspected identity theft should also be reported to law enforcement, the applicable state Attorney General, and the FTC.
